New Student Orientation

This year, on the dates of August 21, 22, and 23, 1,000 new students arrived on the ASU campus. These students are provided valuable information about ASU through New Student Orientation. The three-day program has four specific goals.

The first goal is to assist new students in defining their purpose for attending Arkansas State University and developing positive relationships with faculty, staff, and peers.

The second goal is to help students understand ASU's expectations of them and what they can expect from ASU.

The third goal is to provide information concerning services available to students.

The final goal is to create an atmosphere that minimizes anxiety, promotes positive attitudes, and stimulates a new excitement for learning.

To achieve these goals the following activities are implemented: ASU's Largest Icebreaker, ASU President's Reception, guided tours, educational sessions, meet the dean, tips from professors, Greek Life picnic, Organizational Fair, Orientation Festival, reception for minority groups, movies, and a concert.

The Student Government Association plays a significant role by providing over 40 student assistants and the overall responsibility of implementing the program. Without the outstanding cooperation of the students and staff, a comprehensive program such as this would not be successful. New Student Orientation is a great way to begin college life at ASU.

Campus Life

To master the art of Campus Life requires a lot of time and experience to perfect. It is the industrious planning and meticulous duty of filling in time slots left vacant by the demands of the academic world. Only the very dedicated hard-workers have become masters of filling in these spaces with enlightening activities. Masters of Campus Life color their lives with special events, various extra-curriculars, and dorm tradition. All in all, Campus Life is based on having fun. Everyone needs an outlet to relieve the mental stress of studies. This is one aspect of college life at Arkansas State University that no one has overlooked.

"Give 'Em Hell Red"

There are many new, bright, and talented faces at Arkansas State this year. Usually when we think of schools with "elite" athletes we think of Georgia, Alabama, or Florida to name a few. However, this year we not only excelled, we dominated in many new areas making ASU a national contender with a well rounded athletic program.

International Students

The enrollment of International students is continuing to rise. During the time these students are at Arkansas State University, they are forced to meet our culture face-to-face, and learn by experiencing our culture first hand. Those students who are native to this land can also benefit from the International students. Not only can they learn about our culture, but we can also learn from them. When these students return to their countries, they will in turn educate others about our culture and society. Hopefully, they have been shaped by their experiences and will help others to understand. However, even with such a significant international population, many ASU students do not get to know these foreign students personally. Getting to know these students is a great opportunity to learn about other cultures utilizing a personal experience.

Go Greeks Go

The members of each fraternity and sorority get involved in many activities. They compete and participate in intramurals and support Arkansas State sponsored events like Indian Days. The spirit and enthusiasm of these organizations help build strong support throughout the campus. Hard work and practice are put into these activities by the members to do the best they can to represent their organizations and ASU. Without the participation of the Greek system, a lot of spirit and support would be missing.

Campus Life

Even though it sometimes seems the semesters will never end, I believe that most of us, in retrospect, will realize our time at Arkansas State University went by rather quickly. Only memories will remain; memories that will linger in the minds of those who made them. The extent to which memories are made depends on a person's involvement in Campus Life.

ASU offers many opportunities for involvement in Campus Life. From traditional activities such as Indian Days, Homecoming, and Springfest to activities and organizations such as student government, clubs, intramurals, religious organizations, Greeks, and athletics, the opportunities are many and varied. The student who wants to open the windows of his world to a greater understanding of that which is intellectual, social, and spiritual, will understand the value of being involved in Campus Life at Arkansas State University.

Taking part in Campus Life can be a time-consuming activity that forces the student to balance his time between the extracurricular and the academic. A student may choose a level of extracurricular involvement that exceeds or takes a back seat to academics. A few may almost balance the two.—LeAnn Williams

Scholarship Fund Raiser

Springfest

Each year, students at Arkansas State University anxiously await to trade an afternoon of academic schedules to celebrate the coming of spring. 1988 was no exception as over 1500 students turned out to participate in the afternoon of activities. These activities are especially designed as an effort to reach students who normally are not active in campus events.

Since its debut seven years ago, Springfest has become a tradition at ASU as well as an annual scholarship fund raiser. $1,957 was raised for student scholarships according to Dr. Rick Stripling, Assistant Dean of Students and a member of the Springfest Committee. The Springfest Committee worked extremely hard to insure a successful afternoon of events.

And, successful it was.

The main attraction, as in the past four years, was Bob Schaffer, better known as "Mr. Simon Sez." Schaffer has been featured on television during several "Battle of the Network Stars" programs.

A $1,500 prize was offered during "Simon Sez" to anyone who could survive the commands. Schaffer said he would raise the figure to $2,000. But as he predicted, no one could survive.

Offers A Variety Of Activities

Springfest

Springfest, which was sponsored by Arkansas State University and local businesses, offered many activities to the students who chose to be involved.

Besides traditional activities, two new games were added to the Springfest line-up. These were Wrap The Mummy and Snail Dash.

Of course, also included were the old favorites such as the two-mile fun run, Simon Sez with Bob Schaffer, tug-of-war, obstacle course, tricycle race, broom toss, and the picnic dinner.

The Springfest celebration officially ended with the marathon dance competition at the Convocation Center.

Beginning At ASU

New Student Orientation

Anytime someone is on the brink of change, a bit of nervousness and some anxiety may set in. This may be especially true of students entering college for the first time, transferring, or re-entering after a few years. New student orientation is designed to help students make the transition and feel more relaxed about beginning at Arkansas State University.

New student orientation provides information about student services, campus organizations, and university expectations. A variety of planned activities are also offered to help new students adjust to college life and meet new people.

On August 21, 1988, three days before classes began, new students arrived on the ASU campus. The first day of orientation featured the ASU President's Reception, tours of the campus, Playfair, and a movie. Meet the Dean and Tips from the Professor made up Monday morning, followed by a Greek Life Picnic and educational sessions. Tuesday's line-up consisted of the Organizational Fair, Getting in the Spirit, Sorority Rush Orientation, and a foreign student reception. Orientation officially ended with the Concert Under the Big Top Tuesday night.

Welcome Parents

Indian Days Weekend

On September 23-25, Arkansas State University and the Greater Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce sponsored the third annual Indian Days Weekend. Indian Days Weekend is an effort on the part of ASU and the community to help parents become better acquainted with the university and all it has to offer students. A variety of activities were planned so parents could see the ASU campus and Jonesboro.

The activities began on Friday night with a reception held at the Holiday Inn and hosted by the Chamber of Commerce Indian Days Committee.

Saturday included ASU President's Brunch, hosted by President Smith, ASU Faculty, and ASU Alumni Association, and sponsored by Hays Food Store; ASU Hospitality Room (Information Center), hosted by Goodwill Ambassadors; ASU Walking Tours, hosted by the Student Government Association; ASU open houses, Jonesboro City Tours, hosted by Jonesboro Women of Today, Jonesboro Merchants' Indian Days Sales, Indian Days Pep Rally, sponsored by Simmons First Bank; Indian Parents Bar-B-Que, sponsored by Jonesboro Jaycees; and the football game against Northeast Louisiana State University.

Sunday brought Indian Days to a close with Parents' Day at Jonesboro Churches and Indian Days shopping.

Many community sponsors, leaders, ASU faculty, and students were involved in making Indian Days Weekend a success. Members of the Indian Days Committee from ASU were Dr. Rick Stripling, co-chairman, Gil Fowler, Ruth Hawkins, Dan Hoyt, Bill Templeton, Don Tilton, Tom R. Trevathan, J. Larry Williams, Karen Toombs, and Charles Lee.

Homecoming

On November 5, KZ100, broadcasting live from Indian Stadium, filled the airway with the Homecoming excitement taking place on Arkansas State University's campus. Students, faculty, and alumni were gathering to hail that Runnin' Joe is the people's choice.

The Homecoming festivities commenced Wednesday, November 1, with ASU night at the local Pizza Inns, sponsored by the Student Government Association and KZ100.

Indian spirit continued to prevail on Thursday evening with the lighting of a bonfire followed by a pep rally.

Friday's highlights included the Homecoming parade, chili supper, and the SGA dance at the Armory.

A Week Of Festivities

Homecoming

Homecoming festivities began bright and early Saturday morning, November 5, with a 5 a. m. all-you-can-eat pancake breakfast at Mack's.

Other events prior to kickoff were the Student Government Association Fun Run, Alumni Coffee, SGA banner contest, and the SGA and KZ100 tailgate party.

At 12:30, pre-game festivities began with the presentation of the Homecoming Queen and her court, presentation of colors, and a performance by the Arkansas State University Marching Indian Band.

During halftime, Frank Angelo and J. Roy Fogle were honored as the 1988 Distinguished Alumni.

Frank Angelo, a 1939 graduate of Arkansas State College, now ASU, currently resides in Jonesboro and was instrumental in the ASU Armory construction.

Angelo established two scholarships for worthy students and employed or gave financial aid to over 100 ASU students.

He also has two firsts accredited to him. The first student loan association was started by Angelo in the days before government grants and loans. He also helped the first black undergraduate student to enroll at ASU.

Now owner and president of Angelo Manufacturing Company, Angelo is very involved in the Jonesboro community. He has been a board member of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee, the Northeast Arkansas Existing Industries Association, the First United Methodist Church, president of the Rotary Club, and the chairman of the Red Cross Blood Donor program.

J. Roy Fogle, a 1957 graduate, now lives in New Bern, North Carolina where for twenty years he has served as executive director of the Neuse River Council of Governments, which is an economic and community development organization.

Manager of the Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce from 1957-1960, Fogle has been a strong supporter of ASU and counts as one of his greatest undertakings, his work in helping gain university status for Arkansas State College.

While a student, Fogle played varsity football on scholarship in 1949 and 1950. He also lettered in track those two years and was the captain of the wrestling team. In 1951, he won the Junior National AAU Wrestling Championship.

The Homecoming festivities were complete with the Indians' victory in the game against Illinois State.

Several dances were held after the game and officially brought another ASU Homecoming week to a close.

Not Your 'Typical College Student'

Non-Traditional Students

Every year it becomes more difficult to classify a "typical college student" as many older students are returning to the classroom. Some return to continue their education that was put on hold or to pursue a higher degree in their field. Some return to attain another degree, while many wait a period of time after high school to begin their education. For whatever the reason of return, these non-traditional students grow in number each year and are a significant part of the student population on the Arkansas State University campus.

Awards Presented

Convocation Of Scholars

Several awards, including the Wilson Award, President's Scholars, Distinguished Service Awards and faculty honors, were presented during the Convocation of Scholars week at Arkansas State University.

Mark Belk, of Hoxie, received the 55th annual R. E. Lee Wilson Citizenship Award, which is the highest award bestowed on any undergraduate at ASU. The award is presented to the most outstanding graduate of the university based on citizenship, service and academics.

Belk, a finance major, served the past year as Student Government Association president. He was also scholarship and philanthropic chairman of Tau Kappa Epsilon, planning committee chairman for Greek festival, vice president and scholarship chairman of the Interfraternity Council, secretary-treasurer of the Delta Hall residence hall and served on the International Weel planning committee, the University Development Committee and the Student Activities Quality Circle.

His academic achievements have included the Dean Moore Leadership Scholarship, the Arkansas Electric Cooperative Corp. Scholarship, and an ACT academic distinction scholarship. He has been a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, the business honorary society; Gamma Iota Sigma, a national insurance fraternity; Kappa Mu Epsilon, the mathematics honor society; and Gamma Beta Phi, the national service fraternity.

Belk was also named as one of the four winners of the Distinguished Service Award. The other three winners were Alyce Heeb of Harrisburg; Vickie Newton of Bearden and Eric Scott of Germantown, Tennessee.

Dr. Mossie J. Richmond, Jr., vice president for student affairs, presented the DSA awards, which are based on scholarship, contributions to student life and involvement in university activities. DSA recipients are selected by the Honors Awards Committee of the university from nominations by faculty, staff and students.

Alyce Heeb, a marketing major, served as editor-in-chief of the ASU yearbook in 1986-87 and was student services director for the Student Government this past year. She served as president of Alpha Omicron Pi and of the Panhellenic Council.

She also was Springfest co-chairman, treasurer of the University Hall residence hall council, Student Activities Quality Circle, LEAD staff and planning chairman for freshman orientation.

She won the first Dean Peggy Stroud Scholarship and the National Honor Society Scholarship and was a member of Gamma Beta Phi, the national service fraternity.

Vicki Newton, a radio-television broadcasting major, graduated summa cum laude from ASU. She participated in the Honors Program for three years, made the Dean's List many times and was a member of Gamma Beta Phi.

She served as senator and later public relations director for the Student Government Association. She also was a member of Women in Communications, Kappa Tau Alpha, the journalism honorary society; and Phi Lambda Delta honorary society.

She won the Ted Rand Memorial Scholarship, sponsored by the Arkansas Broadcasters Association and the William Randolph Hearst Scholarship.

Eric Scott, also a radio-television major, was producer for KASU's coverage of the Jonesboro Christmas Parade in 1987, a production assistant for KASU's election coverage in 1986, a technical engineer for the Indian Sports Network and sports anchor for ASU-TV.

He served his social fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha, as national vice president during the past year and vice president for the Arkoma Region the previous year. In the ASU chapter, his positions of leadership include president, treasurer, chairman of the Founder's Day Banquet and director of public relations.

In the Student Government Association, he has served as senator, treasurer, vice president and chairman of the election committee.

Dr. Eugene W. Smith, president of ASU, presented the President's Scholar awards. The scholar in each college of the university is the graduating Senior with the highest overall grade point average, with a minimum of 3.75 on a 4.0 scale.

Mary Jo Shaver, a chemistry major, was the winner of the Chemistry Faculty Scholarship Award. She was a member of the scholastic honorary societies Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Mu sorority.

Julie Ann Webb Aydelotte, and accounting major, achieved a perfect 4.0 average. She won the Jones. Clayton and Worlow Scholarship and was active in the honorary societies of Gamma Beta Phi and Beta Gamma Sigma.

Tony Gould, a printing management major, also earned a 4.0 average. He was the winner of the Graphic Arts Technical Foundation Scholarship and a member of Phi Kappa Phi, the scholastic honorary society.

Pamela Cox, an elementary education major, was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, the honorary educational fraternity.

Grace Vudures, an animal science major, was a member of the Block and Bridle Club and was named outstanding sophomore in animal science.

Nancy Ann Mackey, and instrumental music major, was the principal oboe player in Symphonic Band and chamber groups and was a lead character in the 1987 opera production. She was a member of the honor societies Phi Kappa Phi and achieved a 4.0 grade point average.

Judy Hinton, a nursing major, was a member of Sigma Theta Tau, the nursing honorary society.

John Huff, a general studies major, was a member of Blue Key national honor fraternity and the Arkansas State Livestock Judging team.

Dr. Robert G. Culbertson, vice president for academic affairs announced the faculty honors.

Dr. Robert Engelken, associate professor of electrical engineering, won the award for outstanding scholarship.

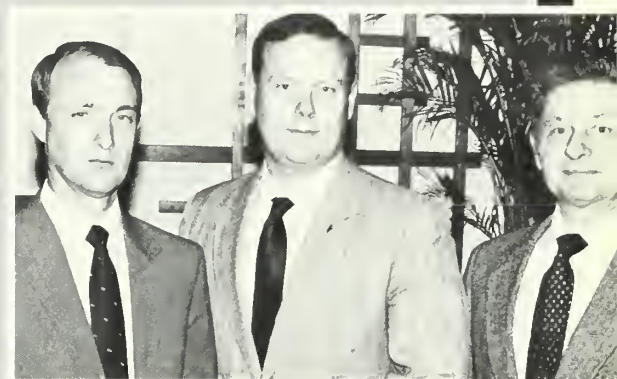

Dennis White, instructor in speech communication, won the award for outstanding teaching.

Dr. A. J. Langlois, professor of horticulture, won the award for outstanding professional service.

Arrive Alive

Alcohol Awareness

The Student Government Association and the Office of Student Affairs, in conjunction with the National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week, encouraged alcohol awareness at Arkansas State University, October 17-22.

Using the theme Arrive Alive, buttons and cups, designed by Todd Wages, statistics, videos, speakers, pamphlets and a non-alcoholic bar were available as an effort to help fight the problem of alcohol. Informational tables sponsored by Greenleaf Center, Jonesboro and ASU police, SGA and Student Affairs were also set up.

On Wednesday, the SGA sponsored the non-alcoholic bar, which ran from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Manning the bar were student personalities such as Charles Lee, SGA president, Ed Louden, basketball player, Jose Feliciano, drum major, and RoseMary Tennille, ASU cheerleader.

According to Steve McRae, chairman of Alcohol Awareness Week, the goal was simple awareness of alcohol and its effects.

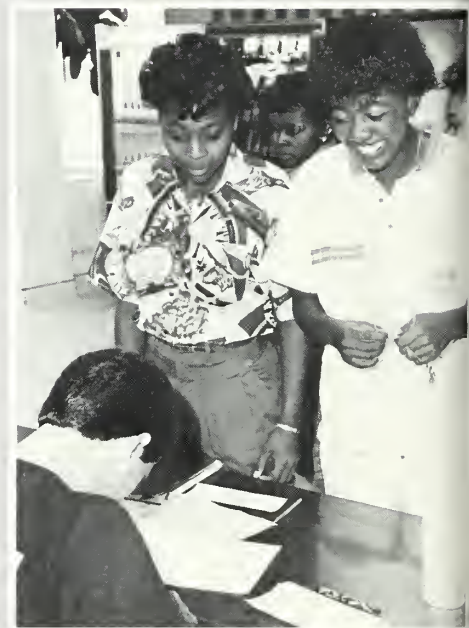

Hopefully, at the conclusion of the week, ASU students were more aware of the effects of alcohol. And knowing the effects, those students that choose to drink will be more responsible drinkers.

Administrators Serve Annual Thanksgiving Dinner

November 22 was the annual Thanksgiving dinner for Arkansas State University students.

For about five years, administrators have assumed the responsibility of serving the dinner. In addition, they bus tables or whatever else needs to be done.

This is an opportunity for students to see administrators out of the office and it helps promote a good relationship between them.

Starting Over Graduation

For most of us, we look toward graduation or commencement as the end - the end of studying, research, exams and lectures.

However, commencement means beginning. It is a graduate's initial introduction to another phase of his life. Even those who choose to attend graduate school are, in a sense, beginning anew.

On May 13th, a group of students lined up for a commencement ceremony that marked their "new beginning." Bill Alexander addressed these graduates at Arkansas State University's Convocation Center. Then, as his name was called, each graduate received from President Smith the hard-earned, long-awaited diploma.

Hopefully, the years of study at ASU preceding this commencement will be for each graduate a stepping stone to the pursuit of higher achievement, whether in continued education or on the job.

Oak Ridge Boys — Special Guest

Kenny Rogers

Country fans got a double dose when country music greats the Oak Ridge Boys and Kenny Rogers performed in the Convocation Center on the campus of Arkansas State University February 5.

After a 25-year-long roller coaster ride, Kenny Rogers has come to a full stop atop the music business' highest peak. His income, reported at more than $20,000,000, came with a lot of hard work. Rogers did not start out in life imagining such phenomenal success. He was the second son and the fourth of eight children. His father was a carpenter and his mother was a housewife who sometimes worked as a practical nurse. Kenny remembers his childhood as happy, although there was a constant struggle for money. For a time, the family lived in a $35-a-month Federal housing-project apartment in Houston Heights.

He was the first member of his family to finish high school, and his parents worked overtime to send him to the University of Houston.

Those impoverished roots in Houston which bring about a streak of insecurity is what drives Rogers on. "I'm not insecure in what I do - though I've never kidded myself that I have a good voice like a Streisand. I'm more a stylist than a singer, but I think I do pretty well. However," he says, "what does make me feel insecure is the thought of being a has-been. No one likes rejection. That would really hurt me."

It seems impossible that Rogers - at the pinnacle of success, with a string of gold and platinum albums and an arsenal of music awards to his credit - could have rejection on his mind. And yet he does not take it for granted. "I've always believed artists create their own demise when they reach a certain level of success by saying, 'Boy I'm not going to work that hard anymore.' So they stop touring, and people stop buying their records. My big goal is to have a top-ten record when I'm fifty."

It looks like Rogers is headed in that direction.

COUNTRY MUSIC GREAT

Willie Nelson

Willie Nelson, one of country music's greatest, took to the Arkansas State University Convocation Center stage August 25.

Nelson has written over 900 songs that have been recorded by artists such as Elvis Presley, Ray Charles, Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra.

Known worldwide for songs such as "Hello Walls", "Blue Eyes Crying in the Rain", and "Crazy", Nelson's song "Night Life (Ain't No Good Life)" has been recorded by more than 70 artists and has sold more than 30 million copies, beginning with a 1963 recording by Ray Price.

"Almost everything I write is autobiographical", says Nelson, the Abbott, TX native who would rather perform than compose. "The playing's the fun, the writing's the work."

Nelson's distinct style embraces country, jazz, blues, gospel, swing, and rock. However, he is most famous for his long string of country hits.

Touring takes up a major portion of Nelson's time. This keeps him on the road more than 200 days a year, in addition to a busy movie schedule. The latter range from "Electric Horseman" and "Honeysuckle Rose" in 1980 to "Red Headed Stranger" in 1987.

Union Board presents

Chicago

The ASU Union Board brought over 20 years of musical success to the Arkansas State University campus Feb. 7, by presenting the group CHICAGO.

The Chicago saga is one filled with phenomenal numbers — over 80 million albums sold, one of the biggest-grossing concert attractions of all time and a list of chart-topping singles longer than the entire repertoire of many other groups. But even the most impressive facts and figures fade in comparison to the group's enduring, and on-going, contribution to the lexicon of contemporary music. Here is a group that has persisted in its habit of accessible innovation, fashioning a body of work unparalleled in pop and rock spectrums.

Its tradition continued in grand style on the group's latest release, Chicago 19. With 19, Chicago is, without question, operating at their formidable peak.

The remarkable musical achievements of this singular American band have served as the soundtrack to the lives of the whole generation. But all the success of their early years served only as a warm-up for the new heights of popular and critical acclaim they would reach in the '80s.

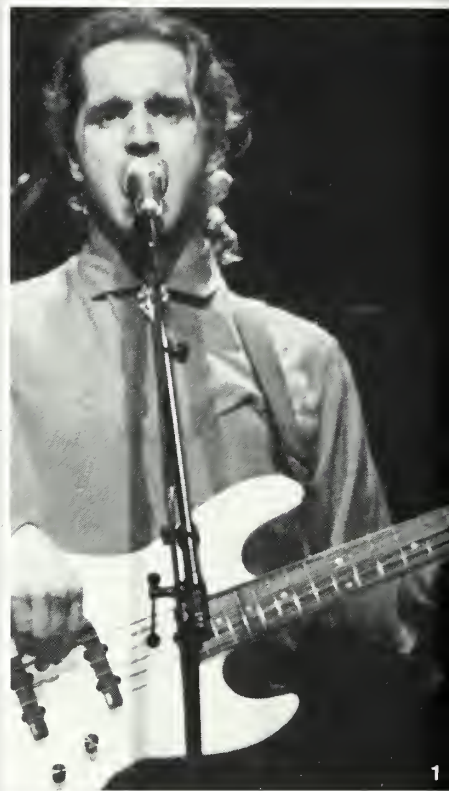

Scaling those heights began in 1984 with the release of Chicago 17, the most popular offering of the group's career. With international sales figures topping six million and no less than four smash singles ("Stay the Night," "Hard Habit to Break," "You're the Inspiration," and "Along Comes a Woman") 17 provided abundant evidence that Chicago was entering a new phase in its creative life.

The following year the release of Chicago 18 produced two more Chicago classics, "Will You Still Love Me" and "If She Would Have Been Faithful." But it wasn't only in the studio that the septet was consolidating its superstar status. Fans, both old and new, packed stadiums around the world to hear live the music they had made their own; turning Chicago into one of the most popular concert attractions anywhere, at any time. The group barnstormed the globe for a solid year — from October '86 to October '87 — with a spectacular three hour retrospective of their career, selling out stadiums on four continents and earning rave reviews in the process.

It was within a matter of weeks after their last concert date that Chicago returned to the studio to begin work on a new album, taking with them a sheaf of new material written on the road, as well as contributions penned by such outstanding tunesmiths as Diane Warren, Mark Jordan and Tim Feehan. The strategy was simple: capture the spontaneity and fine-tuned creative interplay that had been polished over the past 12 months. On hand to enhance the process were two acclaimed producers - Ron Nevison, best known for his work with Heart, and Chas Sanford of Rod Stewart and Stevie Nicks fame.

The result: Chicago 19, featuring the mesmerizing new single, "I Don't Wanna Live Without Your Love," is more than just the latest in a series of Chicago classics. It is a compelling, consummately crafted collection of songs from a group for whom surprise has always been an integral part of success.

ASU Theater Production

Oh Dad, Poor Dad

Arkansas State University Theater presented "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad" November 10-12 in Wilson Auditorium under the direction of Molly Posey, temporary instructor in speech communications.

This zany look at the excesses of wealth won the Vernon Rice Award for off-Broadway theater. A widow and her young son arrive at a hotel suite in Port Royale, a city somewhere in the Caribbean, with luggage consisting of priceless stamp and coin collections, exotic plants, a coffin and a fish bowl of piranha.

Cast members included Mary Louise Sparks as Madam Rosepettle, the bereaved widow; Jonathan Crawford as Jonathan, her son; Macey McGehee as Rosalie, the babysitter; Donnie Keshawarz as Commodore Roseabove, the playboy; Philip Baumgarner as the head bellboy; Michael Scott, Joe Casey, Jerry Prince, Angel Roberts, Melinda Johnson and Jae Bell as Bellhops; Shona Joy and Cindy Hargraves as Venus flytraps, and T. A. Prater as Dad.

Popular Musical Staged

"I Do, I Do"

"I Do, I Do," a musical play about marriage and family life was presented February 23-25 in Wilson Auditorium on the Arkansas State University campus.

Inspired by Jan DeHartog's "The Four Poster," "I Do, I Do" was a collaboration of Tom Jones, who wrote the book and lyrics, and Harvey Schmidt, who composed the music.

The two-person production comi-cally traverses the marriage of Agnes and Michael, from their wedding day in 1895 to their golden anniversary in 1945, recounting the couple's joys, sorrows and problems along the way.

Directing the production was John Rainwater, a graduate assistant. Agnes was played by Diana Baldwin-Richard and Bob Bidewell played her husband Michael.

The Year In Review

The shuttle Discovery blasted into orbit in September, the first space flight since the shuttle Challenger mission ended tragically 73 seconds after liftoff on January 28, 1986. The Discovery ended its successful four day, 1.6 million mile mission with a triumphant landing at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

Vice President George Bush, after serving for eight years in the Ronald Reagan administration, got the expected nod at the Republican National Convention in New Orleans in the summer of 1988. His choice for running mate was unexpected — Senator Dan Quayle of Indiana. The public opinion polls showed that the inexperienced 41 year-old senator was not a popular choice.

Gretchen Elizabeth Carlson burst into tears as her name was announced as Miss America 1989. The 22 year-old Miss Minnesota, who planned to be a Harvard-trained lawyer, became the first classical violinist to win the Miss America crown.

The 1988 Summer Olympics in Seoul, South Korea opened with a dramatic and dazzling ceremony. A colorful, three-hour spectacle mixing ancient Korean rituals with space-age technology kicked off 16 days of athletic competition.

Canadian Ben Johnson, left, looks over at arch rival Carl Lewis at the finish of the 100-meter race in the 1988 Summer Olympics at Seoul, South Korea. Johnson won the gold medal but was later disqualified after traces of an anabolic steroid was found in his system.

President Ronald Reagan and Soviet Leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev worked for several years to bring the two countries together. After a treaty was signed to eliminate certain nuclear weapons, 1988 was the year the efforts of these two leaders went into effect.

The Year In Review

The World Series belonged to the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Dodgers captured their sixth World Series title in October with a 5-2 victory over Oakland A's in the fifth game of the series.

It was one of the big marriages of the year. Heavy-weight boxer Mike Tyson married actress Robin Givens. But the stormy marriage of the 22 year-old rich boxer and the 23 year-old beautiful actress lasted less than a year. She filed for divorce. But after being accused of marrying "Iron Mike" for his money, Ms. Givens said she would not take a dime.

The summer of 1988 was hit with the worst drought in many years. Throughout the midwest, farmers watched helplessly as their crops went dry.

The Democrats went to Atlanta in the summer of 1988, and decided on Michael Dukakis, the governor of Massachusetts, to be its candidate for president of the United States. He decided to pick Lloyd Bentsen, a senator from Texas, as his running mate.

Organizations

Here at Arkansas State University, academic learning is only a part of a student's "college experience." Extracurricular organizations provide students with the opportunity to interact with others, share similar interests, or apply some of the knowledge acquired in their academic studies. These organizations, their individual members, and activities are a reflection of the interests and attitudes of a diverse and changing student body. Student organizations on campus include honoraries, professional fraternities, service groups, and many others to allow for any type of personality or academic major. These are specifically divided into different colleges: College of Agriculture, Engineering, and Applied Sciences; College of Arts and Sciences; College of Business; College of Communications; College of Education; College of Fine Arts; College of Nursing and Health Professions; Department of Military Science; General Organizations; and Religious Organizations. In all, they total 125. This offers the student a lot of variety. Large or small, traditional or controversial, organizations give students a necessary outlet to explore themselves and their relationship with others while participating in activities they enjoy and becoming more involved in college life at Arkansas State University.—Shey Williams

University Hall Dorm Council

The University Hall Dorm Council conducts the business of the hall and is composed of students living within the hall. Its purpose is to involve residents in the principles of self-government through responsible leadership.

Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges has furthered the aims of higher education by rewarding and recognizing the individual academic excellence on a national level. In late August of each year, at the beginning of the semester, the Who's Who campus selection committee is formed. Three students, including the chairman of the committee, are appointed by the President of the Student Government Association (SGA). Three administrators are appointed by the Vice President of Student Affairs, and three faculty members are appointed by the President of the Faculty Senate. The committee is composed of nine voting members with the Vice President of Student Affairs and the Assistant Dean of Students serving as ex-officials.

To be considered for this selection, students must apply. The application forms are available in the SGA office and in the Office of the Dean of each individual college. Individual committee members review each application and select his/her top 58 candidates. The number of candidates is set by the National Who's Who organization based upon the student population of the participating institution.

The 1988 edition of Who's Who consisted of 57 students. Each received a majority vote of the local committee. Based upon the recommendations from the campus selection committee, the editors of the annual directory have included the names of the 57 students based upon four primary criteria: academic achievement, citizenship and service to the institution and community, leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, and potential for future development. Particular attention in the selection process is directed toward the need to have representatives from all colleges and from various ethnic constituents of the university.

All 57 of these young people join an elite group of this country's most outstanding campus leaders selected from more than 1400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and in several foreign nations.

Greek Life

The Greek system plays an active role at Arkansas State University. There are nine National Interfraternity Council groups. There are five National Panhellenic Conference sororities. The National Pan-Hellenic Council includes four fraternities and three sororities.

These social organizations are involved in a variety of different events from Greek intramurals to philanthropy projects, which contribute to a variety of causes.

Being in a fraternity or sorority is not just wearing Greek letters or participating in social gatherings. Each organization has its own set of bylaws and disciplines. For freshmen and students away from home, getting involved can help ease the transition from high school to college. Participating in Greek life provides an opportunity for an enriched college education. The more association with others of similar ideals will help prepare students for life after college because of the social adjustments developed through planned Greek activities.

In this section you will see the Greek system in action at Arkansas State University.—Susan Higgins

SIGMA CHI DERBY DAYS

Derby Days is an annual event sponsored by the men of Sigma Chi. All five sororities compete in a variety of events from a ballroom bust to musical buckets. Points are accumulated by the number of derby's snatched during the week, worn by the Sigma Chi's, and from the events won. The sororities are each represented by two Sigma Chi coaches to help them during their events.

During the week, there is also a "Derby Darling" contest. A representative of each sorority uses their photo to attain votes. The winner of the contest donates the money to their philanthropy. The sorority of Alpha Gamma Delta took first place this year in Derby Days.

The annual event of Miss Greek Pledge is sponsored by the men of Lambda Chi Alpha. Pledges of the sororities are selected to represent their sponsors. They are sponsored either by their sorority or a fraternity. All proceeds go to the American Cancer Society. Sherri Williams, representing Chi Omega, received first place.

- 1 Sherri Williams strips to "Da Butt" while dressed like Miss Piggy.
- 2 Christy Harvison imitates Edith Ann while representing AOPi.
- 3 Kim Winn, in the evening wear competition, is sponsored by Chi Omega.
- 4 Pamela Bennett, second runner-up, performs during the talent competition.

- 1) Brent Iglehart, of Pi Kappa Alpha, shows a true Greek tradition in his toga wardrobe.
- 2) Sigma Chi pledge, Marty Algee, shows it all.
- 3) Ricky Hartness, sponsored by AOPi, strikes an admiring pose.
- 4) First place runner-up, David Yopp, represented Lambda Chi Alpha.

From Batesville, Arkansas, Sonya Neely is Miss Black and Gold.

Russell Henry

In January, the men of Alpha Phi Alpha proudly sponsored the Miss Black and Gold pageant. The contestants competed in talent and formal wear categories, as well as a talent competition.

Miss Sonya Neely of Batesville, Arkansas, captured this year's title and will reign as Miss Black and Gold. Other winners were first alternate Helena Cannon from Memphis, Tennessee, and second alternate Kim Cox from Hollow Grove.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Founded January 2, 1897, at Barnard College, New York, Alpha Omicron Pi is celebrating its fortieth year at Arkansas State.

The Alpha Omicron Pi Research Fellowship is awarded annually for study in the field of arthritis and related diseases. The Ruby fund is given as aid for members in need. The Diamond Jubilee Foundation awards undergraduate and graduate study scholarships and fellowships. Undergraduate chapters, including ASU's Sigma Omicron, and alumnae chapters support the local Arthritis Foundation and the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society and contribute to a variety of charitable funds.

Phi Mu

Phi Mu was founded at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia on January 4, 1852. The sorority mascot is the lion and it deserves many roars for its aid to Project Hope in developing the skills and techniques of the American Medical Professions. Other philanthropic projects include providing for children's toy carts in hospitals, gifts to Social Service Endowment, and grants in child welfare and education work. Phi Mu also offers the foundation award, scholarships, fellowships, and grants in aid.

Sports

Sports at Arkansas State University holds together our school spirit. Without it, this so called "commuter school" would have none. Our athletic program is reaching new heights never thought attainable until now. School and local spirit is rising and traditions are being set. Women's sports are gaining more popularity and more attendance. Our basketball team was ranked in the top 30 teams in the nation at the beginning of the season.

The list goes on for A-State, yet we still need more participation from the student body. Instead of going home every weekend, try staying and watching a football game (Our attendance is taken into consideration for moving into Division-I status), or an indoor track meet, and talk about an excellent volleyball team, we've even got potential Olympians in our ranks! So go watch, it's exciting!!!!—Tania Dement

ASU HAS SLOW YEAR

Coach Larry Lacewell and the Tribe have had a very long season. The Indians came up short 5 out of the 6 times they played. ASU has a very young team and was going through a rebuilding year. They played teams such as Ole Miss and Memphis State, playing them a close game. A-State's kicking game was also a weak spot, often causing the loss. ASU managed a 5-6 record through a tough season.

Lady Indians End Season With ASC Championship

The ASU volleyball team had a terrific season this year. Their record of forty-one wins and one loss is the new NCAA record, which was formerly held by Brigham Young University with a 40-3 record, and they were tied for the nation's second longest winning streak of thirty games at the end of regular season play. Also, they won the American South Conference Championship, Kentucky Fried Chicken Invitational, and the ASU-Kentucky Fried Chicken Classic.

Individual honors were also awarded to the coach and two teammates. Coach Chris Poole, in his second year at ASU, was named the ASC Coach of the Year. Also, Kim Janikowski and Beth Anderson were named to the ASC All Tournament Team and Janikowski was named MVP during the ASC Tournament.

THE 1988 INDIAN MARCHING BAND

The 1988 Indian Marching Band gave sparkling halftime shows. Drum majors are Anna Talbot and Jose Feliciano. The band director, Pat Brumbaugh, comprised the half-time shows with brilliant choreography and creativity. It is enough to make the ASU fans stay in their seats for the intermission.

1. Anna Talbot directs the band at an Indian Days pep rally. 2. A member of the Drill Team does a flag routine during half-time. 3. The pep band plays a variety of tunes for entertainment at basketball games.

The Indian Family

The Indian Family is an underrated support group at Arkansas State University. At games children glow at the sight of those students dressed as Indians. Parents laugh and take pictures with the mascots. It is a big responsibility to raise enthusiasm and spirit at games. If you've ever seen the Indian Family in action, you know that they are doing a great job!

Administration

Dedication. That is the driving force behind the Arkansas State University Administration. The Administration here is sincerely devoted to the students as well as the University. They uphold the traditions and standards that ASU has established throughout its long history.

The Administration must never fall behind. Along with continual re-evaluation of all programs of study, course outlines are varied and requirements for majors are altered according to the changing times. This is an integral part of the University's ongoing commitment to stay on the academic forefront. These neverending efforts ensure that Arkansas State University will continue to succeed in its reach for academic excellence.

The Administration and faculty at

Arkansas State University remain truly devoted to their students, while leading them on to higher and higher plateaus of knowledge. They always make a valiant effort to give a well-rounded understanding of all aspects of college life. They give their all to their jobs, and that is why

Arkansas State is so proud of its special and unique breed of leaders who are wholeheartedly dedicated to their students. The Administration is a group of people who are role models that are helping to mold the futures of every student at ASU. These contributions help to make ASU what it is — a university that is dedicated to the education of the whole person in an individual way. - Connie Steinhoff

Academics

We "the students" come from various backgrounds and have at least one factor in common — to make Arkansas State University our home.

The most vital part of every university is the students. ASU is comprised of a record enrollment of over 9,000 students, and there are representatives from every walk of life. There are those from all over the United States and from other nations of the world. International students are present in many classrooms.

When returning from summer vacation, for some students (upper classmen) it was just another year. Some would be entering college for the first time and some would be a part of the growing non-traditional population. It is this student body that gives Arkansas State University its personality. Life is brought to ASU by the people who walk through its doors and on its sidewalks. These people endure tremendous amounts of pressure. They always "should" be studying.

Then there is the incentive to get involved. Many students work on and off campus, and some even have families to support. It is a continuous effort. Somehow, these extraordinary people manage to overcome these pressures. It is these people that have made this university what it is today.—Connie Steinhoff

1989 Indian Staff

By now you have had an opportunity to formulate your opinion of the 1989 INDIAN. As the advisor, I am in hopes that you appreciate the staffs' sum 4,000 hours and 7,000 pictures to make this edition possible.

Elisa Masterson (Managing Editor) and Melonie Knight (Editor in Chief) have proofed each page at least three times prior to publication. Editors have spent relentless hours arranging and rearranging spreads to determine the best layout. J. D. Witt and his photography staff have spent late night hours at events and even more in the darkroom to provide the editors with a solid foundation.

Working with the 1989 yearbook staff has been a great experience. I am very proud of their ability to accomplish a major task. As the INDIAN advisor, I view it as a privilege to work with such devoted and talented students.

J. D. Witt

J. D. Witt

Now in its third year under the guidance of the Student Government Association, the Indian has made great strides in becoming the quality book that ASU students deserve. Improvements have been made each year to ensure that the Indian becomes even greater. Some of the improvements include: 1) A better selection process for maintaining an experienced and qualified staff; 2) New darkroom equipment to obtain quality photographs; and 3) A new computer system which enables the staff to complete their work more efficiently and to meet the deadlines easier. As one can obviously see, the improvements have hurled the Indian to a first class production. This does not mean that mistakes are not made nor that the Indian is perfect. It simply means that the Indian staff and the SGA are striving for excellence in producing a book that all ASU students will enjoy.

My congratulations to Elisa and her staff. I know there have been times when you wondered if it was worth it. Trust me, it is. Your hard work and dedication is responsible for the production of the Indian. I wish all of you the best in your future endeavors.

Lastly, there is one person that deserves more recognition than he will ever receive. Without Dr. William R. Stripling, more commonly known as Rick, the Indian would not have made those improvements mentioned earlier. His continuous desire for quality and perfection make him the best yearbook advisor possible. He never tells one what to do, yet he is there when problems arise, and he will help to solve those problems. My "hat is off to you" Rick. Keep up the good work, and I am sure the Indian will continue to grow into a quality production.

Sincerely,

Charles Lee, President Student Government Association

Another year at Arkansas State University is coming to a close, as is the 1989 edition of the Indian. After months of planning, writing copy, designing layouts, and meeting deadlines, the Indian Staff has created what we hope is the best yearbook ASU has ever seen.

Special thanks are in order for the following people:

- to the 1989 staff for their cooperation, dedication, and hard work
- to Clarice Lovelace for taking care of things, sometimes before I knew they needed to be done
- to Angie Treat for her skills in putting the yearbook on a computer system - a long overdue improvement. And to those dedicated computer users who gave up hours of free time to type and enter pages before a deadline.
- to Charles Lee and the SGA staff for their continued support and enthusiasm
- finally, to Dr. Rick Stripling, Indian Advisor, for his amazing dedication, constant demands, commitment to quality, bad jokes, chuckles, frowns, and perseverance. We definitely couldn't have done it without you.

For the students of ASU, I have several hopes. I hope that you will cherish this yearbook as I will - knowing the hard work and long hours that each staff member invested in it. I hope that you will love this yearbook as I will - looking past a misspelled word, a poor photograph, or a white space here and there. When you open this yearbook, I hope that you will be filled with pleasant memories of your "college experience." Much of what we do or become in later years will be as a result of our time at ASU. I hope you appreciate this university as I do - realizing that college life is what you make of it, and at ASU you can make it the best. Thank you for the opportunity to serve as Managing Editor of the 1989 Indian.

1. Jami Young also served as an Editor's Assistant. The photographers were - 2. Craig Heathscott and 3. Russell Henry. 4. Thank you to Angie Treat for all of her help with the computer.

The cover material is #815 and black #818 with crushed textures #2 and corduroy grains #14. It is quarterbound with Smythe sewn and embossed binding. The Indian artwork is embossed and silk screened in 30% black.

The endsheets are Eagle A paper. The color is blue granite.

The 378-page book was printed on 80 pound white enamel paper. Process yellow #200, royal purple #601 and spring green #403 were the colors used for spot coloring in three different sections.

Prints were made by the staff using an Olympus OM4-T camera with 132TTL flash and Leica QM camera and a Metaspacer 1000 film used was Kodak T-Max 100 and 400 ASA D76 and 1600 ASA T-Max developer. A Beseler 675C enlarger was also used. The pictures in the class and faculty sections were taken by Child Art Studio in Paragould, AR. Developing and printing were done in the Indian darkroom.

Regular headings are clarendon italic 36 pt. and sub-headings are brush script 24 pt. Body copy is clarendon italic in either 10 pt. or 8 pt. and 6 pt. in the class section. Page numbers are 10 pt. Trim size is 9x12.

Todd Penderson was the customer service representative. Dr. William R. (Bill) Stripling, Assistant Dean of Students, served as liaison for the Indian.

The 1989 Indian Yearbook press run of 6,000 copies arrived on campus in May 1989.
